

Hannah Mieczkowski

(607) 242 - 1578 / hnmiecz@stanford.edu

EDUCATION

Ph.D., Communication, Stanford University

2017 – present

Advisor: Dr. Jeff Hancock

B.A., Psychology, Stony Brook University

B.A., Linguistics, Stony Brook University

2013 – 2017

Advisor: Dr. Susan Brennan

Distinction: Summa Cum Laude

RESEARCH INTERESTS

I study how people use language and interact with each other, specifically in computer-mediated environments. Additionally, I am interested in how social psychological theories can translate to human-robot interaction.

PRESENTATIONS

Mieczkowski, H., Liu, S. X., Hancock, J., Reeves, B. (forthcoming). Status and Social Robots: Perceptions Based on Physical Characteristics. Communicating with Machines: Theory and Practice ICA Pre-Conference. Prague, Czech Republic.

Mieczkowski, H. (2016). How Nicknames Alter Perceptions of Character Traits. Stony Brook Undergraduate Research and Creative Activities Symposium. Stony Brook University.

Mieczkowski, H. (2016). Language Use on Twitter. Stony Brook Young Investigator's Review Presentations. Stony Brook University. <https://bit.ly/2IrtUIj>

Mieczkowski, H. (2016). Social Networking and Politics. Stony Brook Young Investigator's Review Presentations. Stony Brook University. <https://bit.ly/2q31psF>

RESEARCH POSITIONS

Doctoral Student

Social Media Lab, Stanford University (2017 – present)

Research Assistant

Communication Lab, Stony Brook University (2014 – 2017, Stony Brook University)

LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

Assistant Director

Stony Brook Writing Center (2014 – 2017, Stony Brook University)

Teaching Assistant

Introduction to Social Psychology (2015, Stony Brook University)

HONORS AND AWARDS

Ward Melville Valedictory Award (Stony Brook University, 2017)

Provost's Award for Academic Excellence (Stony Brook University, 2017)

Undergraduate Recognition for Academic Excellence (Stony Brook University, 2013 – 2017)

Academic Achievement Award (Stony Brook University, 2013 – 2017)

Presidential Scholarship (Stony Brook University, 2013 – 2017)