

CAPE COD TIMES

“As a sports reporter this summer, I’ve covered a (real) assortment of events... The Cape Cod Baseball League, which is considered the premier summer league for amateurs in the U.S....the Babe Ruth playoffs for high school students, a youth golf circuit, the final of a women’s soccer league, (and) a mile race in Falmouth, which unbelievably, turned out to be the fastest American mile ever run. It was a busy...and fun summer. One thing that I really learned to do was writing for deadlines. At the Cape Cod Times, the clock is master. At first, it was challenging to finish stories with all the necessary details on time and keep them under a word limit. After a summer worth of practice, I’m much improved. A rewarding experience.”~Jack Duane, Rebele Intern 2011

*“My absolute favorite part of the internship was being able to spend a day at Fenway Park walking around on the field interviewing Cape League players who were there for a special practice day.”
~Laura Stickells, Rebele Intern 2015*

The Cape Cod Times (35,000 daily) has a 10-week summer internship that runs from early June to mid-August. The goal is to provide the intern with exposure to all areas of our sports department operation, both print and on our capecodtimes.com website.

Cape Cod is home to the prestigious Cape Cod Baseball League, sandy beaches, great restaurants, and the opportunity to write stories on baseball, sailing, rowing, swimming, running (Falmouth Road Race is one of the top races in the country), and, yes, curling. We are seeking an energetic college student looking for a career in sports journalism who is comfortable (and experienced) in a fast-paced, deadline-driven environment.

We will treat you as a member of the staff. In return, you will build your resume with a variety of clips, and spend a summer on Cape Cod!

To apply, please submit the following:
